

06-25-2012 Today Angie, Shawna and Jade were up early to be shuttled to the airport by son David.

Of course hugs and kisses were many as the girls prepared to leave their boy friends behind while they went back to the good old USA.

The trip to the airport is only an hour ... give or take depending on traffic and accidents.

With a wave bye they are heading home

Ja-Deen helps out at the school and after leaving with the boys, Joyce and Dave walked to downtown Waterloo. It was a nice walk. Did a little window shopping and had lunch at a nice cafe. We had soup of the day (not sure of what it was ... but good!) and a ceasar salad with home made bread. Everything was organic (including the red wine) and wonderful.

After lunch we shopped for gin, tonic, lime and coffee ... the essentials of life:-)

Later .... boys back from school vegging out.

And the adults ... minus 3 ... relaxing around the kitchen table.
More later!

06-28-2012 Joyce and Dave are taking a break from tourist stuff. We are very much enjoying the grandsons.

We also enjoy our walks to downtown Waterloo. Experiencing the food from quaint little cafes has been a real lunch time treat.

Saturday we head for Switzerland.
